at its zenith the islamic state was one of the most developed and powerful of the various militant organisations that have emerged within the middle east in recent decades islam and the islamic state seeks to understand what the islamic state says about itself and how the group s official magazine engages with islamic exegeses in terms of references to the qur an classical scholarship and contemporary muslims intellectuals in much of the muslim world islamic political and economic movements appear to have a comparative advantage relative to similar secular groups they are better able to mobilize supporters and sustain their cooperation long term nowhere is this more apparent than in turkey a historically secular country that has experienced a sharp rise in islamic based political and economic activity drawing on rich data sources and econometric methods avital livny challenges existing explanations such as personal faith for the success of these movements instead livny shows that the islamic advantage is rooted in feelings of trust among individuals with a shared religious group identity this group based trust serves as an effective substitute for more generalized feelings of interpersonal trust which are largely absent in many muslim plurality countries the book presents a new argument for conceptualizing religion as both a personal belief system and collective identity the islamic world and the west perhaps no other topic is currently so often present in the headlines of the international media this timely volume which brings together contributions by 14 established muslim and western scholars intends to present a somewhat more positive outlook in the currently rather strained relations between the islamic world and europe by drawing on shared values and possibilities of cooperation in various fields such as reflected in worldview education economics multiculturalism religious dialogue politics as well as security issues and it shall also contain a historical reevaluation of some of those contacts it is the first project within the framework of the recently signed memorandum of understanding between switzerland s university of fribourg and the asia europe institute aei in kuala lumpur s university of malaya malaysia s oldest university dr christoph marcinkowski is an award winning scholar working interdisciplinary in islamic and middle eastern as well as southeast asian and security studies he is currently principal research fellow and chairman of the publications committee at the international institute of advanced islamic studies iais a malaysian think tank and concurrently adjunct professor at aei examining the theoretical problems which arose when the modern european ideology of nationalism was adopted by muslim societies organized into formally modern states this book first published in 1987 also deals with the practical difficulties arising from the doctrinal incompatibility between islam and the non muslim concept of the territorial nation state it illustrates this conflict with a consideration of the record of several states in the islamic world it suggests that whereas the state an organization of power has been a most durable institution in islamic history the legitimacy of the nation state has always been challenged in favour of the wide islamic nation the umma which comprises all the faithful without reference to territorial boundaries to this extent too the more recent conception of arab nationalism projects a far larger nation state than the existing territorial states in the arab world today this title will be of interest to students of middle eastern studies following the tradition and style of the acclaimed index islamicus the editors have created this new bibliography of art and architecture in the islamic world the editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all european languages except turkish between 1906 and 2011 this comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in muslim societies
